BIOGRAPHY

Michael White joined James-Bates-Brannan-Groover-LLP in 2012. He has practiced law in Macon since 1999 with a focus on financial institutions, regulatory and securities compliance, corporation structure and contract litigation. Mr. White counsels financial institutions and their officers and directors on all aspects of mergers and acquisitions, holding company formations, corporate governance, board management issues, public offerings and private placements to raise capital as well as including “going private” transactions, regulatory issues including enforcement actions, and shareholder relations.

Mr. White advises financial institutions regarding securities compliance, including the preparation of periodic reports, disclosure requirements, proxy solicitations and insider trading rules. Mr. White also provides counsel to small businesses and financial institutions for Chapter 7 and Chapter 11 bankruptcy, litigation, loan workouts and collections.
