About Lauren

Litigator Lauren Schultz focuses her practice on general liability defense, insurance defense, complex business litigation, local government law and ad valorem tax appeals. Her deep and broad experience enables her to strategize skillfully and guide clients through the range of disputes that come her way, including eminent domain conflicts.

Always taking a straightforward but cordial approach, Lauren provides candid analysis, often playing devil's advocate early in legal processes to ferret out any potential case weaknesses. Clients appreciate her directness, frequent updates and flexibility in tailoring her communication style to fit their preferences.

As a former small business owner of two restaurants, Lauren knows many of her clients' concerns first-hand. She advises them with a perspective supported by her real-world experience on topics such as complying with regulations, implementing sensible hiring practices, and proactively limiting liability.

Lauren enjoys digging into information with an investigative eye for detail to glean facts that provide clients with as many resolution options as possible. She advises them of the pros and cons of each option so they're equipped to make sound, informed decisions that protect and propel their interests.
